

Mr Newman

I struggled to find the right words to say how I felt walking around Auschwitz. The overriding emotion was how could this possibly have been allowed to happen? The world must make sure this never occurs again.